LBJ Pledges Firm Stand Against Reds

INCHES WAY TO SAFETY . . . Lorraine Michaels, 6, Madison, Wis., was rescued from thin ice on the Yahara river Sunday after she and her brother, Jeffery, 4, wandered onto the ice. Jeffery fell through near shore and was pulled out by a passerby. Firemen pushed an extension ladder to the girl, 20 feet from the bank, and brought her to safety. (AP Photofax)

LeVander Gets Support in First District

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Harold LeVander, South St. Paul attorney who's running for the Republican nomination for governor, got some support from southern Minnesota during the weekend.

The First District Young Republican League, holding its annual meeting at South St. Paul, passed a resolution backing LeVander.

The group said that Minnesota needs "imaginative and reasoned leadership to grow and prosper." It added that LeVander had shown leadership in three major "problem areas facing the state — community development in the metropolitan area, industrial development and expansion, and attaining agricultural prosperity."

Meanwhile, Rep. Clark MacGregor, R-Minn., who said earlier he was only interested in running for re-election, indicated he'd be willing to run for the U.S. Senate if he got practically unanimous backing of GOP leaders in the 87 counties.

The Republican nominee will have to tackle one of the Democratic-Farmer-Labor Party's top vote-getters, Sen. Walter Mondale, who was appointed to the post in 1964 and will be running for a full term next fall.

LeVander and the other announced GOP aspirant for governor, Ramsey County Atty. William Randall, have busy schedules going this week, coinciding with the launching of GOP precinct caucuses.

Both have scheduled numerous appearances before Young Republican League meetings in coming weeks.

LeVander plans stops at Dakota County caucuses Tuesday night, Olmsted County meetings at Rochester Wednesday night, and a Lincoln Day dinner at Albert Lea Saturday night.

A tour of 20 communities Wednesday through Saturday is on Randall's schedule, including the Rochester caucuses Wednesday night.

THEY'LL PLOT VIET NAM STRATEGY . . . President Johnson turns to Premier Nguyen Cao Ky of South Viet Nam at the latter's hotel in Honolulu's Waikiki beach section shortly after the two leaders met for the first time at the Honolulu airport. They began two days of talks on the Viet Nam war today. (AP Photofax)

Civilian Aid Emphasized at Hawaiian Talks

HONOLULU (AP) — President Johnson swung into talks today with top leaders of South Viet Nam after taking a stand-and-fight stance in a sharp reply to critics at home.

U. S. officials said civilian programs would be emphasized during the historic strategy conference that winds up Tuesday. However, Johnson and his visitors stressed military determination in public statements.

Johnson, welcoming the Vietnamese with martial honors Sunday night, said the United States must stand firm against Hanoi and the Viet Cong guerrillas or "we will have to fight again some place else — at what cost no one knows."

Nguyen Van Thieu, South Viet Nam's head of state, responded: "Your words have gone beyond the usual welcoming address, for they told Viet Nam and the world of a renewed and much stronger determination on the part of the United States to draw a line and stop Communist aggression in Viet Nam, and now."

Johnson, in greeting Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky at airport ceremonies, voiced scorn for "special pleaders who counsel retreat in Viet Nam." "They belong to a group that has always been blind to experience and deaf to hope," Johnson said.

The president argued that it is as important now to resist communism in Viet Nam as it was to oppose it in Europe after World War II.

"Our stand must be as firm as ever," he said.

Thieu was reported determined to argue here for a hard-line military policy, including intensified direct moves against North Viet Nam. He revised his arrival speech en route from Saigon after getting advance word of what Johnson planned to say.

Ever since the hasty launching of the policy conference with a presidential announcement Friday, American officials had intended the meetings to center around plans to improve and expand the social and economic progress of the Saigon government.

They said no important military decisions would be worked out.

The roster of conferees from both countries was heavy with experts anxious to press for political and social progress in Viet Nam, with the aim of strengthening the appeal of the government there.

However, there were indications — at least in huddles among American officials — that future military policy would get a full hearing.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U. S. commander in Viet Nam, conferred at length with the President and indicated at a news conference that he wants more U. S. troops sent to Viet Nam to invade Communist strongholds and shatter the enemy's "main force" elements, estimated at about 77,000 men.

Asked how many additional troops he thought he would need, the U. S. military chief in Viet Nam replied: "This is a matter I look forward to discussing with Secretary McNamara during the coming days. This is a matter under constant study."

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara is one of four Cabinet officers taking part in the meetings. The others are Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, and Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare John W. Gardner.

It was not known whether Westmoreland in his conference with the President made a pitch for more troops. He said he was not at liberty to divulge what was discussed.

The United States now has more than 197,000 fighting men in South Viet Nam. There have been estimates that the American strength may rise to about 400,000 by next summer, and possibly more later. But any new decisions on troop strength in Viet Nam are likely to require longer consideration than the few days allotted to this conference.

Westmoreland answered one question in a way suggesting he may favor intensified bombing of North Viet Nam.

LBJ Plans to Keep Check on Bombings

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — A year after he ordered the first air strike against North Viet Nam, President Johnson is reported convinced that the limited bombings are an essential element of his strategy for defeating Communist efforts to conquer South Viet Nam.

He may suspend the bombing again in coming months as he did during his peace offensive after Christmas. He may vary the intensity of attacks. But his biggest problem will be to keep the bombing within the bounds which he has set.

The President is under two opposing pressures on this phase of his Vietnamese war strategy.

Many foreign governments and critics of his Vietnamese policy in Congress are basically opposed to the bombing and made this clear with their appeals last month to continue the suspension indefinitely.

Other congressional and military advocates of intensified war would like to see the attacks increased to include Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital, and the port of Haiphong.

Johnson and his top advisers, however, are said to believe that while direct action against North Viet Nam is vital for several reasons, a radical escalation of the attacks at this point to include Hanoi and Haiphong would carry risks outweighing the possible benefits.

FHA Interest Rates Raised

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Housing Administration boosted by one-fourth of one per cent today the interest charge on home loans.

This brings the cost of borrowing to 6 per cent.

1st Cavalry Hits Red-Held Valley

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U. S. 1st Cavalry Division, (Airmobile), wheeled inland today into the An Lao Valley, a tortuous gorge held by the Communists for a decade, after a dramatic linkup with U.S. Marines.

The two American forces met 18 miles north of Bong Son as the largest Allied operation of the war tried to close the net on two Red regiments believed in the area.

After morning fog and rain cleared up, two brigades of the helicopter-equipped air cavalry drew the assignment of scouring the An Lao Valley. South Vietnamese troops tried to penetrate the valley 15 months ago and failed.

Only scattered fire from small arms and automatic weapons came from the Communists at the onset. One Viet Cong was reported killed and 14 captured. Punji stakes, sharpened bamboo poles concealed in the ground, caused some injuries among the American cavalrymen.

The skies cleared late Sunday over North Viet Nam and U. S. Air Force jets penetrated 300 miles above the border to hit the old French fortress of Dien Bien Phu on the eve of the start of the American air attacks a year ago. U.S. spokesmen reported 750-pound bombs left the airport runway heavily cratered.

The jets also hit a barracks and storage area and destroyed 12 buildings, a spokesman said. Sixty per cent of the military complex at the base was reported knocked out.

Morse Charges Meddling in Latin America

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee turned its eye from Viet Nam to Latin America today with a charge that U.S. good neighbor policy has reverted to interventionism.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., who made the allegation, said "the fallout in the hemisphere from the Dominican intervention will be a burden to us for many years to come, as will the financial cost to the American people."

Girl Found Dead in Car Trunk

NEW YORK (AP) — The scion of a Philadelphia publishing family was found sitting in a rented car on Manhattan's lower East Side today and police said they found a girl's body in the car trunk.

A preliminary medical examination indicated the girl may have been dead as long as two weeks, and apparently died of an overdose of narcotics.

The girl, Celeste Crenshaw, 19, was a student at the private Rhodes School in midtown. She was the daughter of Mrs. William N. Gooden of New York and John Wyle Jr., a Georgia lawyer.

The young man at the wheel of the snow-covered car was Robert Friede, 25, grandson of the late Moses L. Annenberg, publisher of the Philadelphia Inquirer, and nephew of Walter Annenberg, now editor and publisher of the Inquirer and president of Triangle Publications, Inc.

Indian Plane Carrying 37 Long Overdue

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — An Indian Airlines project airliner with 33 passengers and crew of four aboard was reported missing today en route to New Delhi from Srinagar, in the Kashmir Valley.

Airline officials said the twin-engine plane was hours overdue and presumed down. Civil and military aircraft were searching for it.

An airlines spokesman said the passengers were believed to be German, Swedish and Indian nationals.

Six Children Die In Minnesota Fires

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Six children died in fires that flared early Sunday morning in Minnesota.

Each of the three blazes — at Minneapolis, Fergus Falls and Gove — claimed two lives.

Robert Howard, 21 months, and his sister Theresa, seven months, were killed when flames swept a two-story duplex in south Minneapolis.

The father, John Howard, 24, was critically hurt with burns and his wife Bonnie, 20, was in satisfactory condition at General Hospital.

A couple upstairs, Gary Mattson, 21, and his wife Karen, 19, fled uninjured.

Cause of the blaze, which apparently started in a wall, was not determined.

A newspaper delivery boy, Robin Kern, 13, and a man driving him around on his route, Russell H. Rogers, 42, saw the downstairs ablaze and roused the occupants. Rogers related, "I kicked in the door and smoke belled out. Somebody inside asked me what I wanted. I yelled, 'Get out of your house. It's on fire!'"

Two other pre-school children were victims of the blaze at Goveville in Clearwater County. They were Daniel Faldet, 4, and his brother Jeffery, 3. Daniel was dead at the scene of the fire and Jeffery, who had third degree burns, died in a hospital at Grand Forks, N.D., Sunday evening.

Authorities said the youngsters were at home in company with two babysitters while the parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Faldet, reportedly were visiting at a neighbor's at the 1:30 a.m. hour.

One of the babysitters, Julia Hetland, 8, received slight burns, and Pamela Hetland, 10, had cuts in getting out a broken bedroom window. A passerby who helped the girls out, Harlin Gibeau, also was cut.

A blaze at the home of Mrs. Caroline Nelson at Fergus Falls trapped Janice, 15, and Duane, 5, in a second-story bedroom and they died apparently of smoke inhalation.

A brother, Dale, 18, escaped with burns and broke both ankles when he leaped to the frozen ground.

Mrs. Nelson, a divorcee, was at Moorhead at the time.

At Mankato, Lyle Simmonds was hospitalized with second degree burns Sunday when a fire started in his trailer home, apparently from a heat lamp. His pet dog died.

Castro Rips Red China

HAVANA (AP) — A slashing attack on Red China by Prime Minister Fidel Castro raised the possibility today of a break in diplomatic relations between Havana and Peking.

The Cuban capital buzzed with speculation about what would be Chinese reaction to the blistering broadside Castro loosed Sunday. Castro accused the Chinese of extortion, blackmail, subversion, aggression, strangulation, hypocrisy, cynicism, deception, dishonesty, disrespect and treason.

Some diplomats and political experts expected a quick diplomatic break. Others thought China would suspend trade relations, cutting off what much-needed rice Peking is still shipping to Cuba.

Castro lashed out in reply to Chinese charges that he lied when he declared Jan. 2 that Peking had reneged on a sugar-for-rice agreement.

DEAR ABBY:

Their Minds May Be Sick, Sick, Sick

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: About a month ago I started at a place where there are seven other girls. During their lunch hour all the girls sit around and tell dirty stories and use the name of the Lord in vain. Their language is filthy. I finally took my lunch and went to sit alone in the corner by myself as far away from them as I could get. One of the girls came over to me and asked if I thought I was "too good" to eat with them. I told her, "No, I just prefer to eat alone and read my Bible."

Everybody laughed at me. Now nobody even speaks to me, Abby. I need this job. Must I pretend their language doesn't bother me and go along with the others? What should I do?

ONE OF A KIND

DEAR ONE: First, TELL the girls why you want no part of them. Perhaps there will be one girl in the crowd who feels the same as you but has been joining in because she, too, lacked the courage to speak up. If you find that you are entirely alone, I assure you that isn't the last job in the world. "Seek and ye shall find." (Matthew, vii, 8.)

DEAR ABBY: I think you are all wrong about the kind of kiss you get from playing the game "Spin The Bottle." When I was seventeen I was invited to a party, and we spun the bottle. The kiss I got from spinning the bottle started a romance that led to a marriage that lasted for over 52 years. Sincerely, HERMAN F. IN L. A.

DEAR HERMAN: Congratulations! (What kind of bottle were you kids using?)

DEAR ABBY: My husband is trying to make me, and other people, think I am insane. He takes things out of my drawers, hides them, and then after I have searched the house for days, he puts them back in their original places and tries to tell me they were there all the time. He sets all the clocks ahead, and then sets them back until I am so confused I don't know what time it is! He calls me vile names and accuses me of terrible things, like going with other men. And all of this in front of the children. They know it's not true because I always have one or more of the four with me. He has everyone thinking I am crazy. I would rather die than go on living like this. I am 47 and he is 52. What can I do? I can't leave him as I have no money and nowhere to go. I am— A LOST SOUL

DEAR LOST: Enlist the help of your doctor in getting through to your husband what he is doing (or what you THINK he is doing) to you. If this doesn't bring relief, the lawyer's office should be your next stop.

CONFIDENTIAL TO M. AT MAYO'S: A man's character is clearly revealed by what he does when he has nothing to do. And that goes double for a woman.

Snow or Freezing Rain in Prediction

A new — and disagreeable — note crept into the weather forecast for Winona and vicinity today.

Considerable cloudiness to night and Tuesday, and then the part none of us like, occasional snow or freezing rain or drizzle and likely to continue Tuesday. Not much change in temperature, said the weatherman, predicting a low tonight of 15-25 and a high Tuesday of 22-32.

No important temperature change is the outlook for Wednesday with precipitation uncertain.

SEASONAL temperature normals are predicted for the next five days with average daily highs 21-28 and nighttime lows 1 below to 8 above.

Precipitation through Saturday is predicted to average one-fourth to one half an inch (melted) in occasional periods of snow Tuesday through Friday.

If the half inch of precipitation is all snow it could be as much as 5 inches, weather authorities pointed out.

Above zero temperatures returned to Winona over the weekend, the thermometer rising to a Sunday afternoon high of 34 after a high of 22 on Saturday. Low Sunday morning was 7 and this morning 12. At noon today the reading was 24.

The 34 reading was the warmest of the month and the highest registered in Winona since a reading of 35 on Jan. 9. Since then the temperature had dipped below zero on 21 days, dropping to a Jan. 29 low of -26.

A YEAR ago today the Winona high was 45 and the low 28 with 3 inches of snow on the ground. Today's snow depth was 5 to 7 inches depending on exposure.

All-time high for Feb. 7 was 54 in 1878 and the low for the day -34 in 1875. Mean for the past 24 hours was 23. Normal for this time of the year is 18.

No place in Minnesota reported a below-zero reading today. The state low was 5 at Brainerd and 6 at St. Cloud. International Falls, usually a cold spot, had a minimum of 8.

At Rochester the 24-hour low was 19 after a Sunday afternoon high of 34.

Fog was reported at some state communities, especially Alexandria, Redwood Falls and St. Cloud.

The WISCONSIN Highway Department reported today that fog in counties bordering Lake Michigan reduced visibility and extra caution in driving was required.

Roads throughout the state were reported clear and in good winter traveling condition.

Wisconsin residents, too, who can still feel the shivers of the recent cold blast, were heartened Sunday as temperatures over most of the state were the highest on record since Jan. 10.

It was the first time since then that above-freezing temperatures were recorded in Wisconsin.

THE MERCURY climbed to 36 at La Crosse for a state high, followed by Burlington 33, Beloit-Rockford 32 and Milwaukee 31.

Considerable fog developed overnight and heavy fog was reported this morning along Lake Michigan and along the Illinois border at Beloit and Janesville.

THE NATION'S high temperature Sunday was 81 at Presidio, Texas, and the low this morning was 20 below at Syracuse, N.Y.

ETTRICK FIRST GRADERS — As a culmination of a "house building" project directed by Mrs. Victor Folkedahl, first graders at Ettrick School entertained parents and grandparents Friday.

They demonstrated what they learned with a program of songs, readings and poems. The children themselves chose the subject of their project as the result of having learned the song, "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf," and the story, "The Three Little Pigs."

After visiting the concrete block factory and the lumber yard and learning about carpenter's tools, they built a house of blocks and made a mural picturing their theme.

WHS Players Get Top Honors In State Meet

The Winona Senior High School drama group capped one of its most successful seasons in school history Saturday by claiming a major share of honors in the Minnesota State High School Drama Festival at Richfield High School.

The one-act play cast directed by Warren C. Magnuson won the top festival rating of A for its performance of Edward Albee's "The American Dream."

PAT VICKERY of the Winona players was selected by festival judges as "Best Actress" in the state meet and two fellow members of the cast were honored with runnerup ratings.

James Doyle was named runnerup to a St. Louis Park student as "Best Actor" and Pamela Hafner was runnerup to Miss Vickery in the "Best Actress" judging.

There were no specific rankings of entries in the state festival but on the basis of group and individual honors Winona could be considered as the acknowledged top school in the festival.

Six of the eight entries — Winona, St. Louis Park, Roseville, Fosston, Glenwood and Hibbing — each won A ratings for their productions. Hutchinson and Fairmont received B ratings.

OTHER members of the Winona cast in addition to those singled out for individual awards are Judi Hanson and Robert Gasink.

Winona and St. Louis Park were the only schools to receive special mention in addition to their overall ratings.

Magnuson said that at the conclusion of the festival it was the consensus of the judges that entries in this year's festival in most respects were superior to most college drama productions.

It was also the first time in the history of the festival that more than four schools received A ratings.

Winona entered the state festival after winning district and regional drama contests.

A PERFORMANCE of "The American Dream" will be presented for the public at Senior High School auditorium Saturday at 8 p.m.

Also on the program will be a presentation by Pine Island, runnerup to Winona in the district meet, of its production of "Oh Dad, Poor Dad, Mama's Hung You in the Closet and I'm Feeling So Bad."

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Burglars, apparently aware of a silent alarm on the scene which alerted officers at headquarters, stole some $3,600 worth of mink coats and jackets Sunday night.

They broke the front door lock at Master Furriers in downtown Duluth. Apparently one thief grabbed fur-backed mannequins and tossed them out to a confederate, who stripped the garments off and left the dismembered mannequins strewn about the sidewalk.

Officers arriving within about three minutes only found the broken mannequins.

E. M. Cohn, owner, said the loot included a coat worth $1,999, and two jackets, priced at $1,100 and $499. They were insured.

Schlesinger Set Here Saturday

The author of "A Thousand Days" will lecture at Winona State College next Saturday night.

He is Arthur Schlesinger Jr., who wrote about the Kennedy days from his vantage point as a special assistant to the President.

SCHLESINGER will speak at 8 p.m. in Somsen Auditorium.

A limited number of tickets may be available to the public depending on student and faculty demand.

Dr. Daniel Hoyt, chairman of the division of social science, said that an announcement about availability of tickets will be made later this week. The division is making arrangements for Dr. Schlesinger's appearance.

In 1946, at the age of 28, he was the youngest historian ever to win the Pulitzer Prize when he received it for "The Age of Jackson." From 1961 to 1964 he served in the White House as special assistant to President Kennedy and later to President Johnson.

THE SON OF Arthur M. Schlesinger, also a distinguished historian, he was born in Columbus, Ohio, and was graduated summa cum laude from Harvard in 1938. The following year his honors essay was published under the title of "Orestes A. Brown: A Pilgrim's Progress." It received high praise from the critics and was a selection of the Catholic Book Club.

Schlesinger's third book, "The Vital Center," a discussion of contemporary political and social problems, was published in 1949. Another book, "The General and the President," an analysis of American foreign policy in terms of the issues raised by President Truman's dismissal of General MacArthur, written in collaboration with Richard Rovere of the New Yorker, came out in 1951.

Nelson District Group to Meet With Town Clerk

NELSON, Wis. — The 10 residents of Nelson who are circulating petitions requesting water and sewer systems and a disposal plant will meet with Mrs. Hazel Mueller, town clerk, Tuesday night to see if they have enough signers to implement the project.

Sixty percent — or 70 — of the resident taxpayers are required. At last count they were eight short, Mrs. Mueller said this morning.

Nelson is an unincorporated village. If the required number of persons sign the petitions, the village will be declared a sanitary district and will proceed to call a hearing, engage an engineer and draw plans. This is provided under state law.

Boundaries of the proposed district have been drawn. Buffalo County Agent Archie Brovold assisted with preliminary plans. Roger L. Hartman, Alma, is attorney for the promoters.

AT FULL strength, the party would have 128 delegates for its county convention. There are 47 voting precincts in the county.

Party leaders expect to get an indication of rank and file preferences in this year's nomination contests. Thus far, said Olson, there appears to be little or no organized activity for any gubernatorial or senatorial candidates. Endorsements may stimulate efforts, Olson said, by helping to crystallize sentiments within the party.

Backers of Harold LeVander, South St. Paul, are believed to have placed sample endorsements in many precincts for possible action. LeVander seeks the GOP nomination for governor. There has been no discernible activity for the only other avowed GOP hopeful, William Randall, St. Paul, according to Olson. Neither candidate has an organization in Winona County at this point, he said.

Seen as almost certain is the adoption of a number of precinct resolutions supporting James G. Goetz, Winona, as the GOP's candidate for lieutenant governor. Harold J. Doerer, Winona, is county chairman for the Goetz campaign.

A MINNEAPOLIS lawyer, Douglas Head, has volunteers working in his behalf as the Republican candidate for attorney general. Kermit Bergland and Mrs. Byron White, both of Winona, are chairman and chairwoman of the drive for the county.

Elba Service Station Entered, Change Stolen

A burglar got about $10 in small change Saturday night at the Paul Holst service station in Elba, Minn. Sheriff George L. Fort reported today.

The sheriff said that he learned about the break-in Sunday morning through a call from Bernard Kirsch, Elba.

AN investigation by Deputies Helmer Weinmann and Fritz Wilson showed that the burglar had, after three unsuccessful attempts to pry open doors and a window, gained entry by smashing a pane in a front door and letting himself in.

The burglar went into the station's office and helped himself to about 30 dimes, 20 nickels and 24 quarters, according to an estimate supplied by Holst.

He did not take 100 pennies in a cash register with the stolen change, however, the deputies reported. The register had not been forced open, the deputies found. Nothing else was taken.

They did find that the burglar had used a screwdriver with a three-eighths-inch blade to pry at a window on the north side of the office. Moreover, a bushing around the knob on a door at the west side of the garage had been pried out. Entry was not gained at either of these places.

THE BURGLAR also had tried to pry open the door through which he eventually gained entry. But he had been forced to break the window glass instead. The deputies found pry marks on the door and frame near the lock to this front door.

Sheriff Fort said that a further investigation is being made today.

Anybody Got a Trombenein?

Whatever it is, it came in a wine-colored case, is valued at $75, and police say it was stolen from a Cochrane, Wis., man's car early Sunday.

Chief James W. McCabe reported today that Gerald Klein, Cochrane, came to police headquarters early Sunday to report his "trombenein" missing. It had been stolen from his car parked on Main Street, while he got something to eat, between 2:30 and 3:30 a.m., Klein said.

The chief also reported that four hubcaps were stolen from Leonard Brown's car Saturday night while the vehicle was parked in front of his mother's home at 608 W. 5th St. Brown, of Minneapolis, valued the hubcaps at $70.

Chief McCabe said that a "trombenein" is a musical instrument, as far as he knows. However, neither an unabridged dictionary nor an encyclopedia yields a definition of the mysterious apparatus.

Could the "trombenein" be a new kind of noisemaker popular among rock 'n' roll groups? Police hope to solve the mystery by recovering the missing instrument.

ALMA, Wis. (Special) — Three rural Alma persons are recovering from injuries received in a head-on collision on the Highway E hill outside Alma Jan. 30.

Stiehl had just come around a curve and was on the wrong side of the road when the cars met, according to Clem Breen, Buffalo County deputy sheriff.

Mr. Earney received a broken jaw, lost some teeth and loosened others when he hit the steering wheel. He was a patient at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Wabasha, until Tuesday. Delbert was scratched.

David received a severe head cut and lost some teeth. He was treated by the local doctor and released.

Damage to the Earney car was estimated by the deputy at $1,000 and to the Stiehl vehicle at $500.

Modern Math - No. 1

Helps Parents Understand Work

By Prof. W. F. Lloyd,
University of Tampa

Do you know that every time you add up a column of numbers you are utilizing the Associative Law of Addition? Do you know that whenever you multiply two numbers having more than one digit you are making use of the Distributive Law of Real Numbers? Do you really know what you are doing when you "borrow" in a subtraction problem? Your children do or they will when they study Modern Mathematics.

Maybe if you had been taught the "why" of arithmetic as well as you were drilled in the "how," it would be a more inviting tool. What the schools are attempting to do with your children is to acquaint them with the fundamental reasoning behind the operations with numbers. This is Modern Math.

MODERN MATH is young. It is just now celebrating its tenth birthday. It grew out of a revolt against stagnation in the math curriculum in our public schools. It is now influencing colleges, and is spreading over the entire country. It may not be a perfect teaching method, but it's the best we have. For over 200 years arithmetic was taught by memorization and drill. The children were required to memorize a seemingly endless number of rules and then spend hours in drill drudgery that was supposed to drive in the memorized routine. In the grade school they labored through arithmetic with unrealistically large numbers, and through dull, unimaginative, and artificial word problems.

Of course individual teachers and educators tried to change this dreary state of affairs, but the tremendous inertia of the system stifled their efforts. THE YEAR 1955 marked the first concerted effort to change things. The College Entrance Examination Board (CEEB) appointed a commission to make suggestions for improvement. The University of Illinois' work in high school math, and the University of Maryland's work in junior high schools around Washington, D.C., gave further authority to this effort.

All three of these projects received financial and moral support from the Carnegie Foundation. The Russians with their Sputnik I in 1957 boosted these revitalization efforts. Shortly afterwards the School Mathematics Study Group (SMSG) financed by the National Science Foundation was formed. This group adopted many of the findings of the earlier groups and carried them further.

The high school curriculum was revised first. In Trigonometry, the emphasis on tedious calculations with logarithms was largely eliminated. (We have computers for that now.) Solid geometry was replaced by an introduction to calculus or a math survey course. Algebra was no longer to be a "do it this way because it's right" but rather one stressing understanding and reason.

IT WAS soon discovered that the revisions would be more successful if proper foundations were laid. The work was extended downward until it is now in the primary grades. Because they had no preconceived ideas nor habits to unlearn, the children took to this new math eagerly. Resistance came principally from parents who were not fully informed and thought their hard earned mathematical knowledge was being swept aside and rendered valueless.

This was and is not true. Your children will arrive at the same place as you have, or even a more advanced place. They are merely taking a different vehicle. With modern math training, the good student will be a better mathematician, the average student will be improved, and the dumbbell will still be a dumbbell.

ABOUT THE only ones to suffer are parents who have to face the fact that their children are learning something when they went to school. In every revolution the old suffer most.

Do not get the idea that there were no advances in mathematics during the long period of doldrums in the public school curriculum. Quite to the contrary, mathematics was advancing rapidly. The trouble was that this new knowledge was the

Birch Society Member Has Army Trouble

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — A University of Iowa student who is a member of the John Birch Society said Tuesday night that he was accepted for enlistment in Army Intelligence only after Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, protested to the Defense Department in Washington.

Ron Zobel, 21, of Oelwein, Iowa, a junior studying political science, said he tried to enlist at the Army Recruiting Office in Cedar Rapids and was turned down. A recruiting officer at Cedar Rapids said Zobel had not been rejected but that his application was being checked.

Zobel said that after he called Rep. Gross he received a telephone call from the Army and was told that his application for security clearance "would no longer be held up."

Zobel said "my membership in the Birch Society killed it" when he first applied for clearance.

"For a while I was told they wouldn't enlist me," he said.

State Chamber Installs Officers

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minnesota Chamber of Commerce Executives installed new officers at their weekend meeting which concluded Saturday. It was the group's 47th annual conference.

John T. Hay, St. Paul, was installed as president. Other officers: James Faber, Fergus Falls, first vice president; Roger Ohlsen, Luverne, second vice president; and four directors—Elo Hamre, Hutchinson; Newton Walter, Marshall; Glen Carlson, St. Cloud; and William Sykes, Albert Lea.

almost exclusive property of top level mathematicians. SMSG and other experimental groups had access to this knowledge. They examined it critically and revised it for the lower grades. There followed a short period of chaos when some educators and a few authors grabbed at the work of these groups prematurely or without careful study. This led to some courses of study and some textbooks that were pretty extreme. Cooler heads soon prevailed and these early mistakes were rectified. Modern Math is here to stay.

SOME principals and administrators seized on Modern Math early and eagerly transmitted their enthusiasm to their faculties so that the program was alive, vital and well taught. Others held out until the pressure of professional and public opinion became too great. Some systems waited until junior high to introduce the new method. Others adopted it in all grades simultaneously, or in any combination that can be imagined. This lack of uniformity hurt the public image of the new subject.

Some students resented the break with tradition. Students were particularly bewildered when transferring from a traditional class to a modern class or vice versa.

Time is tending to heal these wounds. It is only when a child is brought up all the way with this new method that he receives maximum benefit. You parents cannot be blamed if you do not know nor understand Modern Math. Remember it had not been invented when you were in school. Either learn it or ignore it, but don't fight it.

It is hoped that this brief introduction has made you more sympathetic to the topic under discussion. Future installments will acquaint you with some of the details and some of the language used in our classrooms today. We may not be able to go into the subject deeply enough so that you will be able to do your child's homework, but you need no longer wear that questioning look on your face when the new words and terms pop up.

NEXT: THINGS COME IN SETS.

It Happened Last Night Boyd Will See 'Sister Judith'

NEW YORK — Handsome movie star Stephen Boyd's going from the Feb. 18 opening of "The Oscar" to a Bethlehem, Conn., convent for an appointment with "Sister Judith" — Dolores Hart, his ex-leading lady, a Chicago beauty, who decided to become a nun.

"I phoned the Mother Superior and understand I have an appointment with Dolores perhaps to have tea," Boyd said in a happy mood.

Boyd, the tall Irishman who was Liz Taylor's leading man in the early stages of "Cleopatra," and is involved with beauties Elke Sommer, Jill St. John, Edie Adams, Eleanor Parker and Jean Hale in "The Oscar," admitted that the most exciting part of his national tour is his meeting with "Sister Judith."

"She says she feels she's growing old and matronly and sometimes she feels like she's playing some of the Bette Davis roles, but she was always a very happy though serious girl and I'm convinced she'll stay with it," Boyd said. "After I see her, I'll do my own meditation."

Reter Lawford and his airline stewardess busted up. Now you'll see him and Pat Lawford, who just divorced him, around together. Peggy Cass says my astrologist Taurus the Bull is uncanny. He warned Geminis about physical risks in February. Peggy went to bed at 12:01 a.m. Feb. 1, fell out of bed, and suffered a deep bruise on her cheek.

Eddie Fisher's intro of Joe E. Lewis got a roar at his Miami Beach Eden Roc opening. "I love everything Joe E. stands for — when he's standing."

Jolly Joe Levine bought film rights to "Golden Boy" and will star Sammy Davis in it. Hillard Elkins revealed on Sandy Lessberg's WOR program.

The Stratford Shakespeare Set wanted retired Jimmy Cagney to play "Falstaff." Agent Bill McCaffrey phoned him in Palm Springs. "Tolt them," said Jimmy. "I can't make the weight."

Badger Driver License Checker Admits Fraud

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A former supervisor of Milwaukee driver license examiners testified Friday he accepted money from license applicants and shared the cash with an examiner.

Frank Loh, 59, New Berlin, told the State Board of Personnel that he also asked the examiner, Jack N. Gurrath, 38, Wauwatosa, to issue temporary instruction permits to applicants without test.

Loh, Gurrath and a third employee of the Milwaukee office of the Motor Vehicles Department were discharged last month.

Loh testified at the board's hearing on Gurrath's appeal. Loh's attorney, Gordon Aaron, told the board Loh was withdrawing his appeal. The third man did not appear.

Loh testified he recalled three instances between 1959 and 1964 in which he shared cash with Gurrath that he had received from "applicants that had taken a road test."

Loh said, "After completion of the test, the applicant came back to me and gave me $20 each time, and I gave $10 to Jack."

Withholding Trouble in Sight

AS EVERY INCOME taxpayer knows, withholding is never perfect.

In many cases there is a refund due from the government, or, unhappily, something owed the government after the annual return has been sweated out.

A major effort is now on in Congress to improve the system, which has been getting more and more out of kilter with the passing years, because withholding is based on lower-bracket tax rates and incomes in this country keep going up. In 1964, for example, most U.S. families had incomes above $6,500 — and the median has gone up since.

If the slice taken out of everybody's paycheck is based on minimum bracket rates and more and more wage earners move up into higher brackets, there is bound to be trouble. This has been the situation.

MOREOVER, THE tax changes of the past two years have cranked more complications into the system. Since the income tax reduction was staged over two years, there had to be a special withholding computation for the first year. It turned out to be a bit low and, last year, many taxpayers who thought their withholding had covered their liability had to dig into their pockets to make up a difference.

Moreover, a new minimum standard deduction benefiting lowest-income taxpayers was instituted. But this change was not reflected in the withholding tables.

As a result of these and other factors, the Treasury estimates, only about 12 million of the 63 million employees who pay their tax essentially by withholding come within $10 a year of having the correct amount withheld. Of the remainder, almost 37 million now have too much withheld and have to file for refunds, while more than 14 million have not enough withheld and have to come up with extra payments.

IN CONNECTION with President Johnson's tax program, the Treasury asked Congress to enact a new set of withholding rules. If withholding were graduated, like the tax rates themselves, this change, the Treasury said, would increase to almost 29 million the number of taxpayers who would break even — within $10. Overwithholding would continue for almost 24 million and underwithholding for more than 10 million. Some people apparently like overwithholding as a form of savings. They do not report all their exemptions.

The House Ways and Means Committee looked over the Treasury tables and several members — enough to indicate the mood of the committee — said they thought they could do better. Fine, said the Treasury in effect, go ahead and try. This is where the matter stands while the committee finishes its hearings. It will probably go to work on legislation this week.

THE COMMITTEE presumably will try to work out ways to reduce the take from the middle and higher income paychecks.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A sudden and violent thunderstorm sent a young couple, soaked to the skin, seeking shelter in a swanky Long Island restaurant. The man peeled off his dripping blazer while the girl stood shivering — and dripping — under the entrance marquee. "Sir," asked the doorman, reaching for the blazer, "would you like me to dry out that wet thing for you?" "I'll ask you to watch your language, my fine fellow," was the haughty reply. "That's my date."

TODAY IN NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Compulsory Unionization

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Indifference of the people toward what is going on in government is today one of the principal reasons why human freedom is being endangered. It's only when the people become thoroughly informed and fully aware of efforts to take away from them their fundamental rights that they are aroused and begin to tell their elected representatives to safeguard those rights.

How many people in America today know that there is pending in Congress a bill which, if passed, can deprive them of certain rights and impose upon them a form of despotism? Under the French kings many years ago, the doctrine prevailed that "the right of working is a royal right which the prince can sell and the subjects must buy."

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., Democrat of North Carolina, in citing the above quotation, declares that any law which would make possible compulsory unionization in America is an adaptation of the doctrine prevalent in France in those despotic days. For, the senator says, the right to work is being considered a labor-union right "which the labor union can sell and the individual worker must buy if he is to be allowed to earn a livelihood for himself and his loved ones with his own hands and talents."

IT IS INDEED surprising that so few people know that the proposal at present before Congress goes to the heart of free government. For hitherto the states have had the power to regulate labor-management relations within their own borders. Now they would be deprived of that same power, and the federal government would authorize compulsory unionization without affording any state the privilege of writing its own laws on this subject. Sen. Ervin a few days ago made this significant comment in his speech before the Virginia Bar Association:

"It is appropriate to note in passing that since the Supreme Court has adjudged the act of Congress barring Communists from union offices to be an unconstitutional bill of attainder, a union-shop agreement may compel loyal Americans to become involuntary members of a Communist-controlled union, which is disloyal to them and to their country."

The alibi is offered that neither the federal nor state government requires anybody to join a union, and that this matter is left entirely to the employer and the union to cover in a negotiated contract. But, realistically speaking, the employer is threatened with a strike unless he accepts the conditions demanded by the labor union, so the net result would be that compulsory unionization could come into force everywhere if the proposal before Congress is passed.

ODDLY ENOUGH, a majority of the members of both houses in the last few years gave their pledges to the labor unions to pass the bill. The American people were uninformed at the time. Many of the senators and representatives now probably privately regret their promises to support the bill. The only reason it has not been enacted into law is that a filibuster is being conducted in the United States Senate to prevent the bill from being voted upon. It takes a two-thirds vote to cut off debate, and the majority in favor of compulsory unionization is not as large as two-thirds.

The labor unions wield enormous power in politics today. They collect huge funds for campaigns. President Johnson himself was against compulsory unionization when he was a member of the Senate and probably in his heart doesn't believe in it now. He is, however, faced with a "practical" political situation and is presumably going along with the labor leaders because he must count on their support for re-election in the next campaign.

There are some evidences that public opinion is gradually being aroused on the whole subject. Until the American people, however, voice their protests and demand that their elected representatives who have announced that they will support compulsory unionization change their position, the danger of further encroachments on freedom of the individual in America will continue.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

FBI Faces Embarrassing Las Vegas Hotel Action

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The Justice Department is pinning its hopes on Judge John Mowbray, Nevada, jurist, to kill one of the most embarrassing lawsuits brought in the history of the FBI.

The suit, filed by the Fremont Hotel and Edward Levinson of Las Vegas, shows that the FBI had 25 wire taps in this and other Las Vegas hotels, in violation of the laws of the state of Nevada.

As a result, the Fremont Hotel and Levinson are suing the Central Telephone Company and four FBI agents for a total of $6 million.

The suit, if it goes to trial, will involve J. Edgar Hoover and former Attorney General Bobby Kennedy, both of whom are now passing the buck to the other for responsibility in getting the FBI mixed up in such wholesale wire tapping.

The telephone company has already approached the Justice Department with a view to dumping the whole thing on its doorstep. At first telephone officials tried to cover up their part in the tapping, but got so involved in giving alibis that they finally made a clean breast and admitted that they had cooperated in wire tapping at the request of the FBI.

TELEPHONE officials have further informed the Justice Department that they do not plan to be hooked for the $6 million, and it was up to the FBI and Justice to take the rap.

All that is why the Justice Department is maneuvering to quash the lawsuit. First word of the wire taps came when Sen. Howard Cannon, D-Nev., called on President Johnson early in 1964 to tell him that FBI wire taps had been discovered in several Las Vegas hotels, which was a crime under Nevada law.

It was found, among other things, that the FBI had four hotel rooms in which it picked up conversations from electronic devices all over the Las Vegas strip, recorded them on machines, then transcribed the conversations. The FBI took pictures of some of the patrons of Las Vegas hotels and gambling casinos. The 25 basic phone lines gave the FBI the capability of 125 phone taps.

ONE BUG was discovered in the bed of Carl Cohen of the Sands Hotel, where he and his wife slept.

President Johnson called in Bobby Kennedy, then serving as attorney general, who agreed to remove the taps. Later Sen. Cannon went back to President Johnson with pictures of what the FBI had been doing and informed him that despite Attorney General Kennedy's previous promise, the FBI was still eavesdropping.

The wire tapping started when Attorney General Kennedy launched his anti-crime drive and wanted to check on underworld characters in Las Vegas.

There is considerable difference of opinion backstage in the Justice Department as to whether J. Edgar Hoover or Kennedy were responsible for this wide-scale wire-tapping. Friends of Hoover assert he demurred, pin the blame on Bobby. But friends of Bobby deny this.

DEFENDANTS in the case include Dean Elston, top agent for J. Edgar Hoover in southern Nevada, together with three other FBI men besides the telephone company.

At one time an FBI official tipped off ex-Senate Secretary Bobby Baker, recently indicted for influence-peddling, that he was being tapped while at a Las Vegas hotel.

The original suit against the telephone company et al was brought by Levinson, a co-owner of the Fremont

Hotel. Later he was persuaded to drop the case allegedly on a promise that the Justice Department would call off an Internal Revenue investigation of Levinson. He had come under Justice Department scrutiny because of a loan he received from the Teamsters Union. Bobby Kennedy at that time was investigating almost everyone who had business dealings with the Teamsters or Jimmy Hoffa.

Though the suit was dismissed, it was refilled after Internal Revenue declined to call off its tax case.

Because of the time elapsed between the Justice Department's hope of quashing the two suits, the Justice Department claims the statute of limitations has run out and is so arguing before Judge Mowbray next week.

THE FREMONT Hotel and Levinson have retained Edward Bennett Williams, top Washington attorney, to push their case.

How Lifetime Citizen Views Urban Renewal

To the Editor:

Remember the many arguments against the widening of Broadway by many of our good citizens with the best of intentions, who now realize and appreciate the benefits of the newly improved thoroughfare? With all their good intentions, they did not understand the problem or look ahead. Urban renewal will also have many benefits in greater variety and degree. And I'll give my life to prove it.

The following facts are being put in words and on paper by a lifetime citizen of Winona, who has ridden on the old horse drawn street cars and shopped on Third street in a horse drawn buggy, with deep mud on the unpaved street. Living through the great sawmill and lumbering days and seeing the construction of solidly built buildings which have already been demolished has been a great experience. The old "Normal School" which gave me my early education had at that time less than two hundred students. Although a fire destroyed the building, it was a more simple way to effect a Renewal and start the present wonderful Winona State College. All of which goes to show that it takes Change to produce Growth.

Every day, every moment there is Change. We Succeed, not by hanging fearfully to the old but by reaching out. "Hold fast, we fail — let go — we grow, and "To Get — we must Give" are good things to remember.

The urban renewal project is greater than I presently comprehend without considerable study which has already been done by highly qualified and honest gentlemen who have the good of the entire city at heart. These men together with the members of the city government have spent considerable time in exploring all sides of this problem. They now know the truths and facts and as elected men should and must use their best judgment. They will act as we would if we knew what they do about the subject. The decision really amounts to "Let's leave Winona as it is" or "Let's get together to improve Winona in every way that we can."

Naturally the study has advanced and will continue to do so if permitted. Also, so has the knowledge of the problems increased. With greater knowledge on any subject, what person has not changed his mind after hearing both sides of the story, or all the facts if you please? A man who has made a quick answer or statement without knowing all the facts is a most honorable man when he admits that he was wrong and tells the world about it. And who hasn't been wrong sometime?

The thought that urban renewal is to help the business man is in error too. Most merchants rent their stores from the owners of the buildings. Both the merchants and the owners of the buildings pay such high taxes that it would not be feasible for them to invest large sums of money on individual improvements with no better prospect of any return. With the over-all plan, things will be different. Recent sales of downtown property have been made at figures much less than the present taxable value, because of conditions at this time. This gives the new owner a lower tax, because the price paid establishes a new value on the property. Winona cannot afford to lose such taxes, and should this continue, and it could, the loss would be passed on all other Winona property, both residential and business.

And last, but definitely not the least, new construction will help everyone in Winona with larger payrolls and business in every line. Whatever is good for Winona as a whole is good for each individual resident, a fact that must not be overlooked. Through the help of the Winona State College situation, we now have the opportunity of a lifetime, to

Venereal Disease Dangers

By J. G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: This letter is in reference to the recently published questions from Miss Q.Q. and her roommate regarding pregnancy.

Evidently pre-marital sex is very widespread and accepted these days, and I think it is because for several generations girls have been told in books, magazine articles, and especially by males that females are entitled (indeed, supposed) to so indulge. The implication is that there is something wrong with the girls who don't.

I wish you would explain that marriage is the time for this, when the man has shown his respect by giving his wife a home and his name, rather than under fearful and furtive circumstances.

Pre-marital indulgence is not psychologically fulfilling. It is psychologically disastrous, not only because it engenders fear of pregnancy, and fear of rejection — if she does or she doesn't — but also because it causes many girls to pretend, not only to the boys but to themselves (which is infinitely worse) that sex is an acceptable element of dating.

It is a girl's nature to want affection, not sex, and in a boy's nature to want a girl he can look up to.

It is not denial of sex which leads to immature marriages. It is the indulgence which leads to them. Boys can wait if they keep their minds on getting their education. Girls, if we are to be a mentally healthy country, must admit to themselves that they really do want to wait. — MRS. M.H.H.

Your perceptive letter speaks for itself. I can only hope that it will be heeded. There have been numerous responses concerning the column you cite, about three to one in favor because it stuck to facts. The opponents, conversely, took the position that such information should not be made public, and that the more young people know about sex, the more likely they are to indulge.

I like your letter, Mrs. M.H.H., because it is based on reasons, not an abstract attitude of thou-shalt-not. Speaking strictly from the medical standpoint, there are three major dangers in pre-marital indulgence:

1 — The danger of pregnancy. (It may shock others, as it did me, however, to learn of a survey in one home for unwed mothers. Two-thirds of the girls had gotten into their predicament deliberately, to spite someone — a parent, boy friend, or whoever!)

2 — Danger of venereal diseases. This is so great that repeated national campaigns have been aimed at it. The great bulk involves young people, a growing number only in their teens. 3 — The emotional impact, which I have observed time after time in patients upset and remorseful from the ordeal of giving in to what they knew to be wrong. The young are often rebellious against "rules" laid down for them. Giving them an understanding of WHY is another matter.

Improve our city in a way never before dreamed of. Let's all get together and boost for this really great opportunity and improvement without delay. We have the dedicated and knowledgeable men to do this for us with a plan recommended by experts. "Procrastination is the thief of time."

Congress Gets Down to Work On Many Issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress buckles down to some hard work this week with most of the action scheduled for the House floor. The Senate faces some vital decisions in the union shop controversy.

Neither branch plans activity after Thursday in keeping with the annual tradition of allowing Republicans to go home for Lincoln Day speeches. The informal recess will extend deep into next week.

Democrats will take time off later to eulogize Jefferson and Jackson.

A bill that would provide a permanent program of education, home loans and other benefits for ex-servicemen tops the House calendar today. It would apply to personnel who served since Jan. 31, 1955, when eligibility for benefits under the old Korean GI Bill expired.

The Senate has passed a companion bill providing for a temporary but more costly program of aid.

The GI Bill is one of seven to be called up in the House today under procedure requiring a two-thirds vote for passage. The popular veterans' legislation is expected to be approved. The other bills are relatively minor.

A more controversial measure is ticketed for House consideration Tuesday and Wednesday. It would spell out the ground rules under which banks may merge.

Two Senate votes, now set for Tuesday and Thursday, may end the stalemate in that body over the House-passed bill to repeal Section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act.

Today let's reflect on the guy next door, and in a day like ours, it could be most anyone. In a day of scientific advance, it would seem that anyone, anywhere, at most any minute can be, for all practical purposes, the guy next door. Names and faces we never have seen before, and voices we never heard before, become commonplace via the radio, newspaper, and television. Happenings on the opposite side of this old globe become common interest and knowledge almost as fast as it happens.

AT THE same time, we become so involved with our own activities and are on the go so much, that while we know intimate details of a world-wide figure as if he were the guy next door, guess who it is that we really don't know: You guessed it — the guy next door. If it weren't for the children in one's household, you'd really be in the dark as to who your neighbor is, what he does, and what kind of a person he really is.

Often I know these chats reflect my own situation, and I'm afraid this is a true case of such a situation now. With the exception of a few immediate neighbors, I'm a stranger in my own end of town. Through business and my three girls, I have come to know a few folks in our immediate area, but there are many more that I don't know.

WE HAVE a National Education Week, a National Pickle Week, and I guess the National Something Weeks is constantly growing, but I wonder why not a National "Hi Neighbor" Week, when people go out of their way to get to know the guy next door. The kids would be delighted. There's something wonderfully gratifying in having Mom and Dad over to Jim's or Mary's house. It lends itself to the already warm friendship of the youngsters. Ideas are exchanged, an appreciation for the other fellow is manifested. The by-products of the Hi Neighbor bit are good too. Folks are quick to lend a helping hand to a friend in need, but when you don't even know each other, you hardly can know one's needs, let alone the manner in which to lend a helping hand.

SPEAKING OF a National Hi Neighbor Week, it doesn't take much imagination to see how this thing could be enlarged to every phase of life. The workman at the bench, for an example, who for ten years has told the family about Joe, his working partner, but who has never shared a visit in either home, Hi Neighbor Week would be the time to break the ice and develop the long overdue "Let's get acquainted" bit.

Granted, there are some people you would rather not know better, but they are the exceptions. It's a fact that the guy next door is usually a nice fellow, and while you may never become bosom pals, much could be gained by coming to know people we live near, work with, and pass every day, just a little bit better.

By the way, I haven't any plans at present to launch a campaign to create a Hi Neighbor Week, but I'll sure go along with it if you'd get it started. How about it?

Patton Tanks Sold to Israel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said Saturday the United States has sold Patton tanks to Israel.

The number of U.S. tanks shipped to the Middle East country was not disclosed. Reliable sources said, however, the figure was in the neighborhood of 200.

U.S. sources said the military sales deal was made about one year ago.

State Department press officer Marshall Wright made the announcement after publication in Cairo of a report that U.S. tanks had gone to Israel.

He said the Soviet Union had made massive arms sales in the Middle East. Egypt, Syria and Iraq are reported to have received substantial Soviet arms.

Missing Child Found Dead in California Pool

SYLMAR, Calif. (AP) — On Jan. 17 at 10:15 a.m., 3-year-old David Dixon was seen by his mother pedaling a tri-cycle in front of his home.

Minutes later, his mother saw only the tri-cycle. Police, friends and neighbors started an intensive search over a 30-mile-square area around his home.

All said they looked into the family's backyard swimming pool and other pools in the neighborhood.

Bill Dixon, the father, said he looked in the pool three or four times, the last time just this weekend.

Meanwhile, the police called it a kidnapping.

Then early Sunday, it rained in Southern California. And the rain on the roof awakened the father. He looked out the back window and saw a jarring sight — his boy's body floating in the shallow end of the pool.

Had the child been in the pool those 20 days? Had a kidnaper dropped him off during the night in front of his house and had the tyke toddled into the pool?

Or had he been thrown in there already dead?

An autopsy, not yet completed, only added to the mystery. And so did statements of police.

County Coroner Dr. Theodore J. Curphey, who helped on the autopsy, said an interim report showed a probable accidental death.

But to an already baffling mystery, the coroner added: "The boy could well have been in the water for three weeks."

Police Lt. Manuel S. Pena, in charge of the search, said he and a homicide officer looked in the pool.

"There was algae in the deep end," he said, but added: "We were told that juvenile officers made a meticulous search of the pool — and other pools of the neighborhood."

The autopsy report said further tests were needed to determine if algae were in the lungs or other organs. If so, then the boy could have gone into the pool alive.

Bruises were found on the child. A visual observation, the autopsy report said, showed no signs of mutilation.

Highway Traffic Tough on Cows

BEDFORD, Ind. (AP) — A state trooper sent to investigate a roving herd of Angus cows on Indiana 37 wound up killing two of them with his patrol car.

A dozen other cows had been killed in three earlier auto mishaps. Two motorists suffered minor injuries.

The dead animals were among 50 which had strayed from a nearby farm.

MOSCOW (AP) — Tass, the Soviet News agency, distributed a story Saturday reporting worldwide press reaction to the soft landing of Luna 9 on the moon and headlined the account: "The moon speaks Russian."

Trial Resumes, Candace Has Bad Weekend

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Candace Mossler was expected back today for the fourth week of her sensational murder trial, after another migraine headache had kept her confined in her hotel during the weekend.

Mrs. Mossler, a trim, blonde grandmother who lists her age as 39, is being tried for her life with her husky nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, 20, in the June 30, 1964, slaying of her husband, multimillionaire Jacques Mossler. The state says Candy and her nephew were lovers.

An initial order of business before Circuit Judge George Schulz was a motion by the state to introduce an eavesdropped conversation involving Mrs. Mossler. The defense calls this a violation of her constitutional rights.

The state claims the telephone conversation was a plea by Candy to her handyman, Roscoe Brown, on behalf of Powers. Brown has testified she asked him to change his story to authorities after Powers' arrest because "a man's life is at stake."

With the issue of the transcript disposed of, the state would be free to call Thomas J. Sparlock, head of the Dade County Records and Identification Bureau. His assignment was to identify as Powers' a palm print on a kitchen counter in the Key Biscayne apartment where Mossler, 69, was slain. Brown testified he had scrubbed the counter thoroughly about eight hours before the victim was knifed and bludgeoned to death.

Snowballs Hit Protesters

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Demonstrators protesting the resumption of U.S. bombing in North Viet Nam continued a vigil in front of City Hall Saturday after being pelted with snowballs and having some of their signs torn up.

The group started its 24-hour vigil at 4 p.m. Friday. The demonstration is being sponsored by the Providence Peace Action Committee and the Rhode Island Committee for Peace in Viet Nam.

Here's Odds on Man on the Moon

LONDON (AP) — One of Britain's biggest bookmakers reported a flurry of bets today on man getting to the moon.

Ladbrokes took one bet of 400 pounds ($1,120) at 6 to 4 odds against a man being landed on the moon before Dec. 31, 1970.

Other "man on the moon" bets and odds quoted were: 100-1 against landing during 1966; 20-1 against landing in 1967; 10-1 against 1968; 8-1 against 1969; and 6-1 against 1970.

Green Bay Fire Started in Paint Storage Closet

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The fire that swept the once-fashionable Astor Hotel and took eight lives began in a closet where paint, varnish and cleaning materials were stored, authorities said.

Fire inspector Millard Vander Kellen said the origin had been traced to the first-floor closet, but the cause was still undetermined.

He said no evidence of faulty wiring had been found. There was no indication of arson, he added.

First Baptist WMS Hears Talk on Missions in India

The review of "His Heart Burns for 600,000 Villages" by Stanley C. Baldwin was the program feature at the Wednesday evening meeting of First Baptist Women's Missionary Society. The group met at the home of Mrs. Edward Gott.

MRS. MILDRED Young gave the review on the story of the work of Paul Gupta from Madras, India, who founded the Hindustan Bible Institute in 1950. He had previously come to the United States, where he took training at the Bible Institute in Los Angeles. Mrs. Young said that through Gupta's efforts and of natives trained at the HBI, the "Gospel of Christ has been heard in many of the villages."

"Students of HBI have come to share the great compassion of its founder, whose heart's desire is to see India's 600,000 villages hear about Jesus Christ," Mrs. Young concluded.

Mrs. Harold Reed opened the meeting with a welcome and prayer and conducted a business session.

Mrs. M. O. Holland announced that the future work of United Church Women will be centered on migrant workers. Mrs. Holland, representative on the Baptist State Woman's board of managers, said that the annual women's conference will be held in June at Carleton College, Northfield, Minn.

MRS. IRWIN Bittner talked on the February Love Gift theme, "Heart," quoting Romans 10:10 — "For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness." Meditations on "The Lord's Prayer" were read by Mrs. Reed.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Gott and her assistant, Mrs. Charles Snustead.

The 13th annual Music Revue and Candlelight Dinner at St. Mary's College Saturday evening carried out its long-time tradition of gracious elegance. Esteemed an outstanding social function of the entire year in Southern Minnesota, it drew guests from a wide area, including adjacent states.

The annual benefit party for the scholarship program at the college always has been a musical extravaganza, with St. Mary's musicians performing throughout the evening, but this year the listening pleasure of the guests was heightened by the appearance of two out-of-town groups. The De La Salle Chorus from Minneapolis and the Cretin High School Band, St. Paul, were guest performers.

TRADITIONALLY the 300 persons attending were guided up the winding approach to the new Student Center on the campus by a long avenue of flickering torches. Young men of the college received the cars for parking and graciously escorted the guests into the building.

Here liveried footmen in blue and red satin coats with ornate gold braid took over the honors, checking wraps and announcing names.

Brother Gregory and other dignitaries of St. Mary's were in the receiving line in the North Gym, where the first of the evening's concert of fine music was heard during the pre-dinner hour. The Winona Senior High School Orchestra, directed by Milton C. Davenport, played delightful music.

"HE HAS ONE of the best orchestras in the state!" was the remark of one listener. Pre-prandials, including trays of intricately designed hors d'oeuvres of great delicacy, were served from tables decorated in the Valentine theme, with white linen studded with red lace paper hearts and centerpieces of gold baskets of white carnations, tinged with red, surrounded by tall red candles. Handsome young college men in tuxedos and black ties served.

As in previous years, most of the women were attired in lovely formal gowns. This year they were of great variety, though perhaps the loveliest were the high-bosomed empire ball gowns, which made their slim young wearers look like French princesses.

were the many beautiful corsages, some of them carried in the hand like quaint nosegays. There were several young women with their hair done in unusual styles, such as sculptured rolls of curls high on the head or big buns worn at the top for a heightened effect.

For the serving of the Candlelight Dinner in the adjacent, high-ceilinged gymnasium, gold baskets of carnations and red tapers centered the round tables, which accommodated 10. The February Valentine theme was repeated with red napkins on the white tablecloths. Only the candlelight guided the guests to their places.

A sumptuous meal was served. It included shrimp cocktail, Roti de Beauf Champignon (succulent thick wedges of roast beef topped with huge mushrooms), Caesar salad, and a delicious heart-shaped pastry dessert, with whipped cream swirls. Sauvignon Blanc and Napa Rose wines were served in small crystal goblets at appropriate times by the waiters, who were St. Mary's scholarship students.

MUSIC FILLED the room throughout the entire evening. Opening the dinner-hour concert was the Cretin High School Concert Band, directed by Robert Paulson. They played selections from "The Nutcracker Suite" by Tchaikovsky and other lulling, lovely music. The Cretin musicians and the other performers who followed them played on a raised platform across one side of the room, where they could be seen by all the diners.

The split-bamboo divider wall was drawn across behind the De La Salle Chorus, for acoustical reasons. They sang under the dynamic direction of Brother Fidells, who is a famous recording vocal artist. At the close of their segment of the concert, he took the lead as a small group of his singers performed.

A surprise appearance was that of Charlie Biesanz, who played his bones with youthful gusto to the rhythm of the singers. The elderly gentleman got tremendous applause from the audience.

NEXT ON THE musical menu was the St. Mary's Concert Chorus, directed by Mrs. Gerald Sullivan. With their usual skill they sang several beautiful numbers, including the beloved "America, the Beautiful."

The grand finale was the appearance of the 100-voice Winona Boys Choir of youngsters selected from grade schools in Winona for their outstanding soprano voices.

Brother Paul, chairman of the evening, directed the boys, who sang with gusto and obvious pleasure, their young faces shining. At one time as they

Beautiful Gowns Displayed At St. Mary's Gala Dinner

It was in the North Gym, turned into a ballroom Saturday night for St. Mary's College annual Music Revue and Candlelight Dinner that the beautiful gowns worn by the women guests could be seen to advantage as their wearers swayed to the dance rhythms of St. Mary's Marinotes Dance Band.

MISS MARY Blocker, Minneapolis, the guest of John Kessler III, St. Paul, wore a slim black sheath with narrow shoulder straps and carried an enormous Duchess rose corsage on her evening bag. She had her blonde hair done in sculptured curls atop her head.

Mrs. William Linahan was like a princess in a slim empire gown with a black bodice edged with black braids and jet beads and a white crepe sheath skirt with a black band around the bottom.

Mrs. W. C. Verbrink, whose husband is chairman of the English department at St. Mary's, was in a white silk shantung gown and carried a nosegay of pink Sweetheart roses and carnations.

Mrs. JAY Martin, Cochrane, Wis., wore a graceful gown of chiffon, with a yellow bodice encrusted with beads and sequins, a soft green midriff insert ending in a floor-length sash at the back over the full yellow skirt.

Mrs. W. F. Bohri, Fountain City, Wis., chose a slim teal-blue sheath gown, with a boat-shaped neckline, edged with a collar of silver beads.

Mrs. Vernon Angst was stately in an off-shoulder gown of caramel-colored cotton satin with a wide silk sash. Her jewels were a necklace with a large amber drop and amber earrings.

Mrs. CURTIS Johnson wore a handsome gown with a sage-green velvet skirt and long-sleeved top of heavy white lace.

Mrs. Royal Thern's gown was emerald green peau de soie, designed with semi-floating panels, front and back.

Mrs. Dana Lyman, Wabasha, Minn., wife of 1st Sgt. Lyman, adviser for the National Guard in this area, had her blonde hair styled in a high bun atop her head. She wore a dinner gown with a sequined white top and a black skirt. A native of Germany who has recently come to this area, Mrs. Lyman said she was delighted with the party and added that the beautiful Mississippi River Valley reminds her of the Rhine Valley in her homeland.

Mrs. LLOYD Foster, Rochester, was beautiful in a slim white crepe gown, topped with a silver mink stole. Mrs. Albin Anderson, also from Rochester, wore a black crepe gown trimmed with jet beads and an autumn haze mink stole.

A striking gown was that worn by Miss Dianne Wrocklage, who teaches speech and theater at the College of Saint Teresa and was the guest of Norman Delue, director of theater at St. Mary's. Miss Wrock-lage wore a slim sheath of peacock blue crepe, whose only adornment was a cleverly designed scoop effect at the low neckline.

Another starkly plain but striking gown was that worn by Mrs. W. W. Ward. It was of dark brown crepe, styled with a high-rise empire bodice. With it she wore long, white gloves.

Mrs. J. V. Wadden was youthful and pretty in an aqua silk sheath, featuring fullness at the sides achieved by inverted pleats at the waistline.

Miss Dorothy Crutcher, Farmington, Calif., a student at CST, wore a lovely pink velvet and crepe gown and had a corsage of white hyacinths and pink carnations. Her escort was Thomas Sullivan of St. Mary's.

Mrs. Jerome Junker, Stillwater, Minn., whose son Tom is a member of the college chorus, wore a black, lace gown, trimmed with crystal beads and had a corsage of white carnations and red roses.

ENTHUSIASTIC COMMENTS were heard about the party.

Said Brother Paul at the close of the concert, "Thanks a million for being such a marvelous audience again this year!"

Said Daniel Foley, Wabasha, Minn., past national commander of the American Legion, "In a word, it's tremendous! Thoroughly enjoyable. We are looking forward to attending next year."

Said Mrs. Joseph Orlowski to Brother Paul, "Next year why don't you have a Grand March, so that the beautiful gowns can be shown to advantage?" He agreed that it was a good idea.

SAID HUGH V. Plunkett, Austin, Minn., attorney, "I think it is just outstanding. We have been here as many years as we can possibly make it and plan to come in the future. I think Brother Paul and Brother Fidelis and their singers were outstanding."

"It gives one new courage and faith in young people to come here and see what they can do."

Mr. Plunkett is on the advisory board at the college and is a member of the Knights of Malta and the Knights of the Holy Sepulcher. The Plunketts' son John L. is a freshman at the college.

Said an unknown person, "It's better tonight than it's ever been!"

BUT PERHAPS the choicest statement of all was made by 9-year-old Robert Brown, a member of the Winona Boys Choir. As his mother, Mrs. Roger Brown, was driving him home, he was enthusiastic about the grandeur of the party, the first such he has attended. But

CHARMING GUEST . . . One of the many women who carried pretty nosegay corsages instead of the usual shoulder type was Mrs. W. C. Verbrink, wife of the chairman of the English Department at St. Mary's. She wore a white silk shantung gown. Her nosegay was of pink Sweetheart roses and carnations. (Daily News photo)

Christian Day Schools Teach Word of God

"One of the most important reasons for a Christian day school is that the word of God is taught in all its truth and purity," said Gerhard Schapekahn, principal of St. Matthew's School, at the Thursday meeting of St. Matthew's PTA. "One subject, which is taught in Bible history, is God's way to salvation. The science subject claims to offer the method to make man like God against every article of faith. A Christian day school teaches that God controls the universe and all its inhabitants."

"Social studies are taught so that the child can go out into the world and function in his home and community as a Christian. Christian discipline is taught so that the child will honor his father and mother and also so that the parents expect and demand obedience. The school day ends in a prayer."

"Christian education should be taught in the home. Every home should have a Bible. Americans need to take the Bible and read it. America needs Christian schools that say, 'We follow Christ in our school.' This is a Christ-centered education," concluded Mr. Schapekahn.

The grade count was won by the ninth grade. Attendance was 69. Hostesses were the Mmes. and Messrs. Edward Lueck, Emil Laak and Lloyd Nelson.

House of the Week

Distinctive Living Room in 2-Story

By ANDY LANG

The traditional layout of a two-story house calls for all the daytime rooms to be on the first floor. All the bedrooms on the second floor.

This arrangement has lasted throughout the years simply because home owners who select this type of house generally do so to obtain the advantage of having the sleeping quarters well separated from the living area.

ARCHITECT Samuel Paul has followed tradition in designing this eight-room dwelling for House of the Week. That is, the four bedrooms are on the second floor, with the four other rooms on the first floor. But he has made a notable departure in a separate living room, a feature of increasing popularity during the last year.

Its isolation is well suited for its use as a formal adult entertainment center. A stone fireplace, paneled walls, cathedral ceiling and large windows, front and rear, add to the over-all elegance of this room.

The balance of the ground floor also is attractively laid out, with many features usually reserved for more expensive homes.

A LARGE flagstoned foyer, with space for a built-in planter, leads directly to all rooms. A tiled power room is located DIFFERENT TWO-STORY . . . Although it has two stories and many traditional features, this pleasant house gets a contemporary look from its streamlined design, with a bow-windowed living room by itself at the left side.

FLOOR PLANS . . . The four bedrooms and two baths on the second floor are located directly over the family room, kitchen, dining room and foyer, leaving the living room and garage as one-story sections and producing an interesting and pleasant design.

A formal dining room, with a large bow-type window, faces the front, while a family room is to the rear of the foyer. The family room has a sliding door leading to the rear patio and a pass-through for ease in serving food from the kitchen.

The eat-in kitchen is a roomy and cheerful ensemble. There is a corner sink and a matching built-in wall oven, caddy-corner style. There is plenty of space left over for a dinette table and chairs — and there is a sliding glass door leading to a covered flagstoned porch, an ideal setting for outdoor barbecues and snacks.

FOR THE utmost in convenience, the washing machine and dryer are located in an alcove adjacent to the kitchen. A laundry chute from the second floor eliminates the need to carry wash down the stairs, and a

JUST AS architect Paul combined the traditional, two-story interior layout with a contemporary approach to the location of the living room, so has he mixed the two styles in an eye-pleasing exterior.

NOTE that the outside of the house, while traditional in detail, has a long, streamlined front, with large bow windows and nice overhangs. It doesn't quite fit into the idea of what a two-story house should be, but a glance at the artist's rendering almost certainly will make you agree that it is highly attractive.

And those who like traditional exterior features will find plenty of them, including the shutters, small-paned windows, flower boxes and covered portico.

THERE IS plenty of storage space at the rear of the two-car garage, including a closet near the back door, a space for garden equipment open to the outside, and a storage area on the inside.

A door, leading from the garage to the kitchen, is mighty convenient as a stepsaver and in bad weather.

Let's Get Growing

By A. F. SHIRA

The Lilac Family

HAVING written recently about annual and perennial flowers, it seems desirable to talk a little about some of the hardy shrubs.

First, let us consider the lilac. The name "lilac" is one that has been held high in the affection of gardeners for ages past, and an aura of romance has been woven about its fragrance and beauty. It was introduced from the Old World in the early days and has been so widely grown that it is considered by many to be a native plant.

The lilac belongs to the olive family (Oleaceae) which is variously known, also, as the ash, or lilac, family. It comprises an important group of landscaping shrubs for the home grounds. It includes the ash, lilac, forsythia, privet and jasmine, a favorite in the southern states. The Russian olive, a tree with silvery leaves that is hardy here, does not belong to this family.

There are about 500 species in this group, some of which are distributed throughout the world. The only variety, other than those mentioned above, that may be hardy here is the fringe tree, or shrub, that is native from Pennsylvania southward. We have tried several on our grounds, but they did not survive. Other varieties in this group that are not hardy are of no concern here.

SINCE THE lilacs are the most important varieties in our area, they will be taken up first. The flowers of the lilacs are showy, attractive and for the most part are fragrant. Most of the garden varieties have come from the common lilac and have been developed through the selection of promising seedlings and by plant breeding. The various colors are generally available in either single, or double, flowers. The colors range from white through pink and lavender to dark red, or purple.

Although the common lilacs are widely planted, there are some objections to their use about the yard. One of these is their tendency to become leggy as they grow. The other is their bad habit of suckering so freely.

THE PERSIAN lilac is considered to be one of the best, if not the best, for use about the home and is our favorite. It grows to a height of about 5 feet making a compact bush with slender arching branches that bend gracefully under the load of heavily clustered blossoms that have a delightful spicy fragrance. It is hardy, blooms later than most lilac varieties and does not sucker like the common forms. It rates with the best of all flowering shrubs.

Next, let us take a look at some of the hybrid forms, usually called the French lilacs, that are so much improved over the common kinds. They have large full blossoms, many of them double, and are very fragrant. The color range is very wide. They make good specimen plants, at a corner of the house, for example, or back in the yard for accent. They do not sucker.

THE HUNGARIAN lilac is a variety that is suitable only for a large yard, as it may reach a height of 10 feet, or so. The flowers are a deep lilac in color, slightly fragrant, and are borne in slender open clusters. It blooms late, but is not especially showy. Our bush is over 20 years of age and is about 12 feet in height.

The Amurensis variety, or Japanese tree lilac, will grow to a height of 15 feet, or so, and has large, flat panicles of white flowers. It blooms in the summer after the other lilacs are done. It is too tall for the average shrub border. Our specimen is now about 10 feet tall.

The forsythia is hardy here, but all, or most, of the flower buds are usually winterkilled, except some near the ground protected by mulch, or snow.

The privets that are hardy here, are usually used for hedges.

Mt. Vesuvius erupted in 79 A.D. and buried an estimated 20,000 residents of Pompeii under hot ash.

Steels, Autos Move Ahead in Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels, autos, airlines and electronics were gainers in an advancing stock market early this afternoon. Trading was fairly active. Steels benefitted from a report of rising orders for the metal and expectations that the industry would enjoy a big first quarter.

The over-all list seemed to respond to the opinion reported from the National Association of Purchasing Agents that inflation looms as a more serious threat now than in many years. The market was up a little at the opening, then moved solidly higher despite laggards here and there.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .7 at 366.3 with industrials up 1.1, rails up .3 and utilities up .3. The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 4.18 at 990.53.

Lorillard was delayed in opening, finally surging 2 1/4 to 50 1/2 on an opening block of 40,000 shares. It extended the gain to more than 3 in later dealings. Rumors were denied that the company had a new type

Grant Sees Hassle in Pact Talks

REVERE, Mass. (AP) — Jim (Mudcat) Grant, the Minnesota Twins' ace right-hander who won 21 games last season and then added two more in the World Series, says his salary dispute could become "a real hassle."

Grant, who opens a week-long engagement as a singer at a Revere Beach night spot tonight, said Sunday night that he had returned a second contract unsigned and he and the Twins are "far, far apart."

"I'm still seeking $50,000, but I'll let Mr. Griffith off the hook for $49,000," Grant said.

The hurler said that the Twins told him they didn't think "it would be fair to other players on the team to give me such a big increase."

"I told them that I was negotiating for myself, not the team," Grant said. "I'll become a team player when I sign. But I don't intend to go to spring training until I sign."

Grant, who smiled and didn't appear disturbed by contractual negotiations, was asked what he would do if the Twins decided to fine him $100 a day for each day he was a holdout.

"Then I'll ask for $50,100 the first day, $50,200 the second day and so on," he replied with a grin.

Farrell Says He Laid Back Much Too Long

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "I just laid back too long," said Tommy Farrell after suffering his first defeat of the indoor track season.

"I think he was a little tired," said Ollan Cassell, the Olympian from Nutley, N.J., whose victory over Farrell marked one of the major upsets of the season.

Each could be a little bit right.

Farrell, pointing toward a showdown with Canada's Bill Crothers two weeks from now, relied a little too much on his finishing kick in the Philadelphia Inquirer Games Saturday night and finished second to Cassell in the 600.

Each was timed in 1:12.8, Cassell holding off the St. John's ace by about a foot. The result was a shocker, since Farrell is generally regarded as the United States' best middle-distance man.

He was hard-pressed in winning the 1,000 in New York the night before, however, and the consecutive meevs may have been too much for him.

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics, striving for an eighth straight National Basketball Association title, are gripped in an Eastern Division dogfight — and reacting in championship fashion.

"We don't disgust too easily, we just go ahead and play," Coach Red Auerbach said with a note of satisfaction Sunday after his Celtics repulsed a challenge by Philadelphia in edging the 76ers 100-99 in a bruising duel of divisional giants.

The victory, sparked by the sharp-shooting of Johnny Havlicek in the fourth period, enabled the Celtics to boost their lead over the 76ers to 2½ games. Cincinnati moved back into second place, two games behind, by edging San Francisco 117-116.

In the only other game played, St. Louis turned back Los Angeles 109-105.

"We've lost a lot of games we should have won and we've suffered a lot of injuries," Auerbach said. "But when you start feeling sorry for yourself, you're going to get whipped. And we're not about to start feeling sorry for ourselves."

"We've won key games from Cincinnati and this one from Philadelphia is a real big one. But we've got a lot of tough games ahead and can't let up. This race is going down to the wire."

The Celtics stormed to an 11-point lead in the first period, but Philadelphia rallied to tie the count 49-49 at halftime. The 76ers edged in front 74-72 after three periods, before Havlicek caught fire in the final 12 minutes, scoring 14 of his 22 points in the final quarter.

The former Ohio State star's set shot with 50 seconds remaining pulled Boston from behind after the game had been tied 97 times. In the closing seconds, he missed a free throw, but came back to steal the ball from Chet Walker in helping to preserve the slim advantage.

The game played before 11,500 Boston Garden fans and a national television audience, was marked by playoff tension, with tempers flaring in the rough going. Dave Gambee of Philadelphia and Tom Sanders of Boston drew fouls for a tussle in the first period.

SKATERS MUST WIN TO KEEP HOPES ALIVE

Redmen Cage, Ice Teams Face Toms

By BOB JUNGHANS
Daily News Sports Writer

St. Thomas College stands directly between St. Mary's and a happy Monday evening.

That Monday evening is tonight when both the Redmen hockey and basketball teams travel out of town to meet the Tommies. And while Tim McNeill's skaters will be trying to keep their slim MIAC title hopes alive, Ken Wiltgen's cagers will be trying to reverse a previous decision and partially make up for a miserable season.

"We have to get by the Tommies tonight or it's all over," said McNeill. "For us it's been a day-to-day existence, having to be up for every game and put together our best hockey."

And, ironically, while the Redmen hope to dump the Toms in order to still qualify for a share of the MIAC title they have won the past two years, they are counting on the same St. Thomas team to drop a rock on Gustavus Adolphus.

The Gusties, who lead the league with only one loss, have three games left. The first is Wednesday night against Hamline.

"Hamline has been fairly impressive in its last two games, but I don't think they have the manpower to defeat Gustavus," said McNeill.

So that leaves it up to the Tommies, who have two games left with the Gusties Monday and Friday of next week.

"I think St. Thomas could beat Gustavus once or maybe twice," said McNeill, "but it's hard to beat a team that's been on a lucky streak like Gustavus has."

"We had one bad week when we couldn't buy a goal, and it's too bad that we can't do anything but sit by and hope someone is going to help us. I feel we're the best we've been all season."

I just hope we can put together another good game tonight and be around if the bubble breaks."

And speaking of breaking bubbles, the basketball squad could deflate the league leading Tommie cagers if they come up with an entire game like the second half they played the first time the two teams met.

In that game, the Redmen fell behind 37-22 at half before rallying within two points in the final 20 minutes. But a flurry of St. Thomas free throws gave the conference unbeaten Toms a 65-59 victory.

"We're certainly going to try and do just that," said Wiltgen. "I don't know how bad (Dan) Hansard's hand is hurting, but it probably "isn't very much."

Hansard, the 6-8 Tommie pivotman, got 27 points in St. Thomas' 70-68 victory over Augsburg Saturday night despite a cast on his right hand.

The Redmen will be trying for the upset with two key players hobbled. Jim Buffo still can't cut properly on his injured foot, and Roger Pytlewski, who did a fine defensive job on Hansard in the second half of that first game, continues to be hampered by a bad ankle.

"Roger will definitely get the job on Hansard if we don't zone them," said Wiltgen, "but we'll probably use a zone. I don't like it, but we're almost forced to with those two hurt."

The zone defense, of course, is in hopes of keeping the ball away from Hansard.

"We'll take our chances on them hitting from the outside," said Wiltgen. "They're primarily an inside team. This (Fred) Korba is a good shooter, but I don't know about the rest of them."

Game time is 8 p.m.

Boston's belabored Bruins jinx, thrown the National Hockey League title chase into a three-way deadlock and gained ground in the battle of the bottom.

John McKenzie's goal capped a third-period comeback Sunday night that gave the last-place Bruins a 3-3 tie with longtime nemesis Detroit and dropped the Red Wings into a tie for the NHL lead with Chicago and Montreal. The Black Hawks edged Toronto 3-2 and the Canadians blanked New York 4-0 in Sunday's other action.

The tie earned Boston its first point against Detroit in 10 meetings this season but, more important to the Bruins, it gave fifth-place New York over the them a three-point pickup on weekend. The Bruins whipped the Rangers 5-3 Saturday night — with Ranger castoff McKenzie scoring the go-ahead goal — and now trail New York by a single point.

10,000-METER RECORD

OSLO (AP) — Despite a snow storm, Norwegian clerk Fred Anton Maier, 27, set a 10,000-meter world record of 15 minutes, 32.2 seconds Sunday in a five-nation speed skating meet at Olympic Bisset Stadium.

Not Eligible For Mark in Westby Victory

WESTBY, Wis. (AP) — Olympian John Balfanz capped his sweep of the trials for the U.S. ski jumping team for the world championships Sunday with a soaring leap of 315 feet that he felt went three feet too far.

Because of Balfanz' performance, officials automatically shortened the take-off run and the 25-year-old ski equipment salesman from Minneapolis, Minn., missed what he had hoped would be an opportunity to rewrite his own North American record of 325 feet.

The jump was still the best of the six trials and helped Balfanz to his sixth victory in them. He will head the five-man U.S. team that will leave New York Tuesday for the Federation Internationale de Ski Championships Feb. 17-27 at Oslo, Norway.

Gene Kotlarek, 45, Duluth, Minn., also an Olympic veteran, was second to Balfanz in each of the two tryouts Sunday and in the over-all qualifications.

Three college students, Dave Hicks of Duluth, Jay Martin of Laramie, Wyo., and Dave Norby of Madison, Wis., won the other berths on the team.

Balfanz glided 305 feet in his best jump of the fifth session Sunday morning. With the snow improving on the takeoff slide with each run, he registered his 315-foot performance on his first jump in the final session in the afternoon before a crowd of 20,000.

Officials had set 312 feet as an automatic barrier and shortened the slide, cutting the distances, for the remaining two jumps allowed each rider.

Balfanz, in what he says may well be his last season of international competition, had won each of the four previous trials at Middleton, Wis., and Duluth.

SUFFERS OVERTIME LOSS TO DUQUESNE

Providence Hits Sour Note

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The music from the locker room tape recorder might have been melodious, but Jimmy Walker and his Providence teammates definitely were off key.

As a result, Duquesne's underdog basketball team edged fourth-ranked Providence 78-76 in overtime Sunday in Pittsburgh, less than 24 hours after the Friars escaped from Loreto, Pa., with a 50-48 victory over even less-heralded St. Francis.

The loss, which snapped a 10-game winning streak, was only Providence's second — both on the road — against 15 victories. Whether they win or lose, though, the Friars always have a tape recorder in the locker room for psychological entertainment. Sounds of rock 'n' roll can be heard both before and after each game.

"It goes where we go; it relaxes us," Walker explained. "The Friars had a different feeling after Sunday's game, though."

They led 42-32 at halftime, but the Dukies rallied for a 68-68 tie at the end of regulation time on Phil Washington's 15-foot jump shot with 40 seconds left.

Providence then had to go into overtime minus Walker, the country's seventh-leading scorer. He fouled out in the last minute of regulation time. Duquesne, now 11-6, clinched the triumph on a free throw each by Rich Carlberg and Jimmy Smith in the final 20 seconds.

Before fouling out, Walker scored 20 points.

Two other members of the Top Ten barely escaped with victories Saturday.

Fifth-ranked Loyola of Chicago edged Marquette 85-84 on Corky Bell's last-second tap-in, and Cincinnati, No. 10, nipped Louisville 56-54 as John Howard threw in a jump shot with three seconds left. Loyola's victory was its 14th straight and 16th against one defeat.

Four other teams in the Top Ten toted to easy victories. Unbeaten Kentucky, No. 2, gained its 17th triumph, crushing Georgia 74-50 and taking another step toward the Southeastern Conference title.

Seventh-ranked Kansas walked host Missouri 77-54; No. 8 St. Joseph's trounced Temple 105-74 and Michigan, No. 9, whipped host Indiana 83-76.

Top-ranked Duke, Vanderbilt, No. 3, and Texas Western, No. 6, did not play.

One of the most significant results of the day came at Washington State where the Cougars edged UCLA 84-83 on Dennis Klokke's two free throws with five seconds left.

MIAC Front Runners Survive Close Tilts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The three front runners in the Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference basketball race—St. Thomas, Gustavus Adolphus and St. John's—survived close decisions Saturday night. St. Thomas extended its unbeaten string to nine by overcoming a 12-point halftime deficit to nip Augsburg 80-78 in overtime. Dan Hansard, a 6-10 center, paced all scorers with 27 points, including the two free throws that won it for the Tommies. Dick Kelley had 21 for Augsburg.

Gustavus needed two overtimes to turn back Macalester 72-70 and hike its MIAC record to 8-2. Al White counted 25 points for the winners and Bruce Soltis bagged 22 for Macalester. St. John's stayed in the title chase by rallying down the stretch to down Minnesota—Duluth 70-65 for a 7-2 league mark. Joe Mucha pumped in 29 points for St. John's, who blew a 38-26 halftime lead.

Hamline stepped out of the MIAC and absorbed a 96-73 licking at the hands of Minnesota Morris. Wayne Brabender collected 30 points and Roger Schnaser 20 for Morris, now 12-5 this season.

Big game in the MIAC this week has St. Thomas at St. John's Thursday night.

In Northern Intercollegiate skirmishing Saturday, Moorhead State ambushed league-leading St. Cloud 59-57 for the Huskies first loss in four starts. Chuck Johnson and Jim Jahr meshed 19 points apiece to lift the Dragons to a 3-3 league slate.

Mankato broke a second place tie with Winona in squeezing out a 68-67 victory behind the 26-point production of Jim Vesichio. Dave Meisner scored 24 for Winona, now 4-3 in the NIC.

Mankato, 5-2, can take over the league lead by beating St. Cloud Wednesday.

In nonconference action, Bethel outscored Northland, Wis., 94-79.

Hawks Bees in 50-36 Triumph Over Faribault

Winona High's B squad posted its ninth victory in 12 starts Friday night, blitzing Faribault's Bees 50-36.

The triumph was actually easier for the Little Hawks than the final score indicated. Winona jumped to a 15-4 first quarter margin and had Faribault down 43-22 going into the last stanza. But coach Bob Lee cleared his bench at that point and Faribault was able to make the final count somewhat respectable.

Jim Beeman and Mark Patterson each dumped in 11 points for Winona as nine players hit the scoring column.

State University Conference basketball race and the title once again is likely to pivot on the Blue Devils' invasion of Oshkosh this Saturday.

The Pointers speared Stout 70-69 in an overtime Saturday night to hand the Blue Devils their first defeat in 11 WSUC games. Oshkosh, spilled the previous night by Eau Claire, trounced River Falls 106-59 to pull back within a game of Stout with a 9-2 mark.

Superior added to the rash of upsets by stunning Platteville 93-76 while La Crosse whipped winless Whitewater 80-64 in other WSUC games Saturday night.

Stevens Point, only one rung from the bottom in the WSUC with a 4-7 record, used an unyielding zone defense to clog the inside and stop Stout's driving attack.

The Pointers led by five at one stage of the first half but slipped behind in the second half before Mike Fortune's jumper with 14 seconds left deadlocked the game at 61-61. Stevens Point never trailed in the overtime.

Wes Zuege canned all four of his free throw tries in the extra session, including two shots that snapped a 66-66 tie with 1:03 to go, and teamed with Fortune to carve the Pointer surprise. Jerry Lawetzki led the winners with 20 points.

Mike Thompson had 24 and Willie White 18 for Stout, but the Pointers held their all-WSUC teammate, Jerry Kissman, to just 3.

Sanders Storms Past Palmer in Playoff

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Knocking six strokes off par in the final eight holes is something right out of Arnold Palmer's famed "charge" book of golf.

Doug Sanders simply stole the idea and today is the 1966 winner of the $100,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic.

To be more accurate, Sanders was seven shots under par for the last nine holes.

For it was in the first hole of a sudden-death playoff with Palmer that Sanders got a birdie 2 and collected the winner's $15,000.

Sanders' shot, a 15-foot putt on the 145-yard 15th hole at the Indian Wells Country Club, capped a day of dramatics in the final round of the 90-hole, five-day Hope affair.

Today Sanders, Palmer and their fellow pro golfers head for the $60,000 Phoenix, Ariz., Open.

Sanders came from six strokes back at the outset to shoot 35-31—65 over the par 36-72 course. In the last eight holes he had four birdies and an eagle for a 90-hole total of 349.

Palmer, only two shots off the pace, shot a 70 to tie Sanders at the 18th hole when he holed a four-footer for a birdie.

The playoff went to Indian Wells' par 3, 15th hole, since NBC had its television cameras there.

Sanders hit a good three-quarter 7-iron to the green, 15 feet from the cup.

"I hit a bad 4-iron," said Palmer, who went far wide to the right.

Palmer pitched back and went 14 feet past the pin.

Sanders putted in and that was it. Palmer's consolation was $8,000.
